BROWN UNIVERSITY NEXT ON SCHEDULE FOR PREP NATATORS

Meet With Washington High School On March 18; Rutgers Interscholastics Taken By Close Score; Spence Disqualified In Relay

Next Monday, March 14, the relay team consisting of Reilly, Spence, Dodge, Whitehead and Ready will go down to Brown University to swim their relay team.

On March 18, the swimmers will again enter into competition with Washington High School. This meet was originally scheduled for February 24, but Coach Reilly thought best to postpone it on account of several casualties, in order to meet Washington with the team at its best.

Rutgers Takes Interscholastics

On Saturday, March 5, the Rutgers Prep natators swam in the Rutgers Interscholastics at the Ballantine Pool. Some of the best teams in the state competed in the meet, and the score was very close, Rutgers Prep winning with seventeen points.

Among the most important schools participating were: Rutgers Prep, Lawrenceville School, Erasmus High School, Manual Training High School, Washington High School, De Witt Clinton High School, Hackensack High School, Englewood High School and Tenafly High School.

Leonard Spence won the 220 yard swim with a time of two minutes and twenty-five and three fifths seconds.

In the fifty yard swim, Prep's entrant, Jack Ready, was just nosed out. The time was twenty-four and four-fifths seconds.

The Rutgers relay team made a good start but due to an unfortunate happening, Leonard Spence was disqualified. The other members of the Relay Team were: Jack Ready, Charles Whitehead and James Reilly. The race was won by Washington High School with a time of one hundred forty one and two-fifths seconds.

Spence Breaks Own Record In Rutgers Interscholastics

Leonard Spence, natator at Rutgers Prep for two years, broke his own world's record in the breaststroke last Saturday in the Rutgers University Interscholastics. The new time was 1:7 3/5. It was in the same meet a year ago that Spence set his former mark. Individual scoring by Spence and Ready won the meet for Prep. This is the second consecutive year that Rutgers Prep has captured this contest.

PENN STATE HOLDS TWO THOUSAND ACRES IN NITTANY VALLEY

Keystone State College Began As Farmer's High School, and Changed to Agricultural Institution; Appropriations Are Large

The Pennsylvania State College was founded as the Farmers' High School, later became the Agricultural College of Pennsylvania and finally in 1874 it became the Pennsylvania State College.

It is located in the centre of the Nittany Valley making the campus a very beautiful spot. The College lands include more than two thousand acres, the main campus being flanked on one side by the College 18-hole golf course, the use of which is free to the students, and on the other side by the College farms and agricultural experiment grounds. The campus lies adjacent to the borough of State College, a rapidly growing and thriving community. The College is twelve miles from Bellefonte and thirty miles from Lewisport.

Buildings Are Fireproof

There are approximately fifty buildings on the main campus. The majority of these are fireproof modern structures and well suited for their purpose. During the last four years more than $4,000,000 has been used to construct new buildings. Construction is now going on on a recreation hall, an infirmary and a dormitory for men and one for women.

The College is supported by the grants to a certain extent made by the Federal government, from the appropriations made by the State Legislature and from student (Continued on Page Three)

W. BEARDSLEE HEADS SMALLEST HONOR ROLL

February List Shows the Lowest Percentage
For Year; Klauer Leads Seniors

The February honor roll, lead by William Beardslee, a junior, with 94.2, numbers eighteen, according to a statement made recently by the office. This number, slightly less than twenty percent of the school, is the lowest so far this year, with the exception of the first term honor roll, which had seventeen members. Jack Klauer, a senior, is second with 93 1/3, while a freshman, Philip Strong, is third with 93 1/4. The seniors lead in the number of men on the roll, since twelve of the honor men are seniors. The freshmen come second with three, and the juniors and sophomores trail with two and one respectively. Klauer leads the seniors with 93 1/3, and Nebel follows with 92 1/4.

RELAYS AT PENN TO BE ON APRIL 30; PRINCETON IS BOOKED

Early Spring Training Begun by Prep Track Mentor in First Training Directed Toward Relays; Prep Second At Newark

Early training for the spring track season has begun under the direction of Dr. McGinn. The purpose of this week's training has been to accustom the team to running on cinders. A regular schedule of track work will begin next Monday.

All early training will be directed toward the Penn Relays which are to be held April 30. Rutgers will enter a 1 mile relay team in this meet. The team will consist of four quarter milers. The most likely candidates for positions on the team are: Linders, Stengel, O'Donnell, G. Wenz, La Calle, Brost and Kott. Rutgers placed fourth in last year's meet.

Princeton Meet Probable

Rutgers Prep will also probably meet Princeton in the annual dual meet. A meet will also be arranged with Montclair Academy and possibly several other neighboring schools.

The final meet of the spring season will be the Princeton Interscholastics to be held on May 14. Outstanding men will be entered in the various events. A post season intramural meet will be held following the Princeton Interscholastics in which anyone in the school will be allowed to compete.

Place Second In Statement

The Rutgers Prep winter track team under the direction of Dr. McGinn ended its season at the state interscholastic track meet held at Newark Saturday, February 27. The meet was won by St. Benedict's while Rutgers Prep captured second place.

The meet was a complete upset in that both Hun School and Lawrenceville were expected to top Rutgers. The outstanding member of the team was Robert Linders, who was the only dual winner of the meet. Linders won both the 70 yard and 220 yard dash. His time in the 70 yard dash tied the meet record while his time of 24: 2/5 seconds in the 220 was but a fraction of a second short of the record. He was runnerup to DeNorch of Kearny High for the meritorious trophy which is awarded to the most valuable man in the meet.

Stengel Takes Half Mile

Charles Stengel was the other winner for Prep capturing the half mile run in 2:08. Stengel ran in third position till almost the finish of the race when a final sprint carried him across the line first.

La Calle ran exceptionally well in the 440 yard dash winning third place in his heat. Franklin Brost also won third place in his heats in both the 220 and 70 yard

SECOND CONTEST GO SATURDAY FOR PREP AGAINST HUN SCHOOL

Semi-Final of State Tournament Tomorrow
As Local's Strive for Second Victory Against Princeton School; Seton Hall Downed

Prep meets Hun School of Princeton in the semi-final as a result of the first victory on March 5. The game is to be played tomorrow, but as yet the place has not been decided. It is not known that the Preppers will give the uns a good fight all the way through with the outcome in doubt. The contest will probably be played in Central High School at Trenton.

Tournament Game Won

Last Saturday the Prep five entered the first round of the New Jersey State Interscholastics, which was played at the Masonic Hall in Highland Park. In this game Prep was opposed by the Seton Hall five of East Orange and, although they were conceded a good chance to win, the Maroon and White again came out on the high end of the score, 26-14. This contest was a roughly played affair and the Prep team did not show its best. For the first three periods play was ragged on both sides and only Prep's zone defense kept the Setonia five from scoring. At the end of the first period the score was 7-2 in favor of Prep; in the second period while Rutgers had many chances to score no field goals were made and the East Orange five outscored for this session. The half ended 8-5 in Prep's favor. There was some good pass work at the beginning of the third period but towards the middle the play on both sides lagged.

Seton Hall Slow

Although Seton Hall had the ball numerous times with an open court between them, they were slow in taking advantage of them and as a result a Rutgers defense was allowed to form, thereby ruining their chances of winning the game. For a time the score was 9 all, but just as "Beanie" Pennington sank a two-pointer the period ended.

Columbia Press Convention Draws Over 1500 Students

The Columbia Interscholastic Press Association Convention, in whose contest the Argo has been entered, will adjourn tomorrow. The decisions of the judges will be made known at that time. Over fifteen hundred representatives of school papers throughout the country are attending. A complete account of the proceedings is being carried by the New York papers.

A Place For Everything

News is paramount. And the newspaper is the greatest instrument in the hands of civilized people today. With it, unscrupulous persons can work havoc and mischief and at the same time, serious minded and sane leaders are able to use the organ for the furtherance of brotherly love and good will.

There has been much criticism of the press in the Lindbergh kidnapping case and the Chinese-Japanese fracas. Many have claimed that the journals, hungry for news and unable to get any, have turned to the device of misconstruing facts so that new ideas are brought to light. In other words old material is being rehashed into lurid descriptions for the yellow journals to feature and banner. The reason for this seems to lie in the fact that the authorities, both here and abroad, are sometimes reluctant to divulge any real information. And then the press is up against a mighty proposition. The public, its customers, are clamoring for developments and there are none to give. It is, therefore, necessary for the newspaper to fall back upon the oldest of institutions, rumor.

But, in this school, everything important and worthwhile is fact. There is no call for second hand information. Anyone who contributes to the Argo should be of positive assurance that they are the original owners of the material. This paper does not want suppositions and does not print any. May we further add that such contributions will be assigned to their proper place, the waste basket.

Character Training Does Not Appear In School Athletics, Says W. L. Hughes

No Definite Schedule in Right Conduct Has Developed, Is Theory of Teachers College
Professor, Speaking Before Physical Education Conference

Any character training which results from competition in interscholastic or intercollegiate athletics is probably accidental, Professor William L. Hughes of Teachers College, Columbia University, declared last Saturday at the final session of the two-day conference on the interpretation of physical education at the New York University School of Education auditorium, 37-41 W. Fourth Street. More than 500 educators attended.

Professor Hughes said that despite the general belief in the importance of character education and in the contribution made to it by the various fields of instruction, including athletics, no definite procedure of fostering right conduct had ever been devised.

United Effort Urged

"Coaches of athletics," he asserted, "have had a blinding and fervent faith that they were contributing in some way to character development and have gone on without any specific plan to secure changes in conduct."

"Character education awaits the results of the movement to analyze it before it can proceed to build on a certain foundation. The physical educator, the athletic coach, must join all the social agencies of the school in an unified character education enterprise. We should not rest content until this is accomplished.

"Although athletics are believed to provide a unique opportunity for character building, it is perhaps too much to expect present-day coaches of school and college teams under the prevailing system to accomplish much except accidental or incidental teaching of character. Much has been said in defense of the character value of athletics, but little or nothing has been said about the method of teaching these character traits. There is a paucity of scientific literature or objective facts on the subject."

Would Direct Gang Spirit

In a symposium on the bases of character Dr. Louis Berg of New York University declared that gang tendencies among adolescents must not be thwarted but must be led into proper channels to avoid disastrous results at maturity.

"The gang is an unofficial but important agency in shaping the beliefs, ideals and character reactions of the growing boy," he said. "Usually all other social energies combat the gang influence and do so successfully but the fact that they infrequently fail is proved by experience of truant and parental schools and in protectories, reformatories and prisons."

RANDOM NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Neal and son, Philip, left last week for The Hun School, in Princeton, where Mr. Neal has formed a connection as a member of the staff. The Neals have been at Rutgers for the past three years, and through their genuine hospitality and sincere interest in the school have gained the friendship of both teachers and the boys. They will be greatly missed at the Trap, where their apartment in Alpha House was always "open house" to their friends. But we wish them much good fortune and happiness in their new environment.

Mr. Kelly addressed the Parent-Teachers Association at Milltown on Monday evening, February 29, on the occasion of the annual celebration of Founders' Night.

The Roller Skating rink continues to prosper on Saturday evenings under the inspiration in persona of Whitaker and Joseph.

Mr. Hays, one of the best-liked of all the former teachers at Prep, was a visitor at the Trap for a short time one day last week. Mr. Hays is now at the Westminster School in Connecticut.

A number of boys have been confined to their homes or to the infirmary at the Trap during the past week due to mild cases of, grippie; but thus far the school has been fortunate in escaping the epidemic of other years.

"Economic conditions are making high school boys more serious and studious," William P. Kelly, headmaster at Rutgers Prep School, New Brunswick, N. J., said yesterday. He reported examinations showed the best marks in twenty years.—New York American.

Carroll Lear has added yet another name to his already voluminous correspondence; and interested observers report frequent lapses into reverie. We wonder if Spring is a factor.

Mr. E. W. Ellis, former Athletic Director and instructor in Science, visited the school recently. Mr. Ellis, with his wife and son, Junior, now live in Unionville, Connecticut, where Mr. Ellis is superintendent of schools.

Stengel: "Well, Brock, I got the pole last night."
Brock: "Did they draw for it?"
Stengel: "No, I ran out and took it."
Wade: "Did they let you bring it home?"

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly were guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Kelly, Jr. in Westwood, N. J., for a day or so last week.

ALPHA HOUSE

By Paul A. Wehr

For several years the Alpha House has been populated with what has been called "the cream of the Trap." Once again we present a variety of characters, all of whom contribute their bit to make Alpha a happier place in which to live. Let us examine each personality for a moment, beginning with the inmates on the top floor.

Here we have "Bill" Whalen, the Norfolk Bobby Jones, who has transferred his affections to Stelton, with a resultant decrease in the enrollment of N.J.C. Bill's roommate Bob O'Connor, a new boy, seems to appreciate the finer things of life, as will be verified by anyone who happens to be near the flower stand in Woolworth's. In the only single room on the third floor we have "Yunco" Wade, who as a purveyor of pumpkin pie and other eatables, is unrivalled at the Trap. The other two noise-makers of the third floor Alpha are "Abu" Lowmes and Charlie Stengel. "Abu" the "Courtier of Muses" is also deeply in the West, as his choice of literature proves. "Charlie," his roommate, is known to many of the boys as "the man Father Time is trying to catch."

Descending to the second floor, we find another group of happy trappers. "Newt" Jorgenson and Jack Klauer, the Huntington twins occupy the room at the foot of the stairs. "Newt" seems sad since the conclusion of foot ball for he no longer sees the one who cheered. Jack is a real leader in the life of the school, as well as a Romeo of wide repute. In the next room we find "the men about town," although they are better known as Herb Jacobs and Dick Keating. "Jake" is well known and revered wherever shirts are worn, while Keat the "Spirit of Notre Dame," besides being an athlete of no mean ability, has that certain something as may be seen by a glance at his calling list. The other two inmates of Alpha are "Red" Neville and Paul Wehr. "Red," because of his long Barrymore collars and attempted vocal ability, is Rudy Vallee's only rival. Wehr, the last inmate of the house, is known throughout the Trap because of his pool ability, and the shots he does "for the benefit of the spectators."

All the inmates of the Alpha are fairly good students when study hour comes around and this fortunate circumstance assists the faculty representatives in the discharge of their duties. The teacher on the second is M'sieur Stroud, the Wilmington "Rembrandt," who is liked by all the boys because of his subtle humor. Mr. Hartman, the teacher on the first floor who has recently been called "Admiral" by some of the boys, seems to have the spring fever, as he is continually moving, from room to room about the house. Both indeed, are very popular with the Alphites.

From the foregoing character sketches of the members of the Alpha House, and in consideration of its political standard, with Herbert Jacobs, House President, William Whalen, Vice-President, Jack Klauer, President of the Senior Class, Arnold Jorgenson, President of the Students' Association, it is in accordance with the writers of the past that the Alpha House is the "cream of the Trap."

fees. From time to time the Federal Government has made provision for special activities such as agricultural and home economic extension courses.

The scholastic standing of the College is such that it attracts a high type of students. These standards are zealously maintained, and it is expected that students come to apply themselves diligently to their studies. Compliance with a high order of conduct in morals is expected.

Freshman Week Held

All Freshmen must arrange to arrive at the College one week prior to the opening day to participate in Freshman week. It is the purpose of Freshman Week to acquaint the new student with the various phases of College life.

As a Land Grant institution, the College offers courses in military training which are prerequisites for graduation.

Special training is given by augmented coaching staffs to all candidates for the dozen or more intercollegiate varsity athletic teams. No student is allowed to represent the College on a varsity athletic team until he has been in residence one college year taking a full schedule of work.

The College is a non-denominational institution and as such offers many opportunities that are beneficial to the well-being of its students. Each Sunday morning Chapel Services are held in the Schwab Auditorium at which attendance is voluntary by the students.

Fifteen Units Necessary

An applicant for admission must have completed at least fifteen units of preparatory work, partly in required and partly in elective studies. The applicant may be admitted to any four year course by certificate or by examination. To enter by certificate the candidate must be in the first fifth of his or her graduating class.

All courses in the School of Liberal Arts lead to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Four year courses in other schools lead to the degree of Bachelor of Science.

Many Scholarships Open

There are numerous scholarships available to those students who may wish to avail themselves of the opportunities offered to those who have a special inclination to certain kinds of work.

Those students coming from outside of the state are required to pay a fee of $150 in addition to the fees fixed by the various departments in which the student enters.

There are three schools of the College that offer correspondence courses. These schools being the School of Education, the School of Engineering and the School of Agriculture.

I could sit down and in a little while Compose a poem for you,
I'd tell about
The twinkling stars,
And azure skies of blue.

But why should I rack my brains,
To compose pretty things to say,
You won't even let me hold your hand,
And then when I'm away . . .

On some other guy's lap you will set,
He'll get the petting I didn't get.

ded, and the score was 11-9 in favor of Prep. The fourth period opened with fu-the Prepsters had just found their shooting aim for they outscored Seton Hall 15-5 in this period to win easily. The pass work of all showed up well in this period and as the end of the game neared, Coach Brown put in his substitutes for the remaining time. Pennington was high scorer with nine points.

Prep Downs Pingry

On March 1st the Rutgers Prep quintet closed its season against the Pingry School from Elizabeth with a 42-13 victory. This increased the winning streak to fifteen victories giving Prep an undefeated season.
The visitors gave much unexpected opposition in the first period but after their shooting had little or no effect on their score. The local passers demonstrated good team work and the fact that Roy Lins was absent from the lineup because of illness did not hinder us. "Loose" Jablonski's pass work was notable in this contest as well as all the scoring.

As far as the regular scheduled season is concerned, Rutgers Prep went through it with flying colors and every man on the team deserves all the praise that can be given, as also does Coach Charlie Brown.
The substitutes along with the regulars deserve some praise as they helped relieve the regulars whenever occasion demanded.

dash. The mile run was won by John Mc-Kenna of St. Benedicts. O'Donnell and Wenz, Rutgers' entrants, ran remarkably well. Smith would have undoubtedly have placed in the shot put but was disqualified for a slight mistake.

The point standing of the teams was as follows: St. Benedicts 35, Rutgers Prep 15, Piedie 14, Lawrenceville 14.9, Holy Spirit
8, Seton Hall 4, Hun School 3.
