HEADMASTER KELLY WILL TOUR EUROPE IN 4 MONTH'S TRIP

Leaves This Week With Mrs. Kelly
For First Long
Vacation

Headmaster and Mrs. William P. Kelly will leave Saturday for a four month's tour of Europe. They will visit the principal countries of the continent and will return late in October. This will be the first long vacation Mr. Kelly has had in the twenty years he has been head of Rutgers Prep.

Sailing on the steamship Minnewaska, which docks at Southampton, they will proceed to London, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Washburn of Manhasset, L. I. will accompany the Kellys through England and France, which they will tour by automobile during June and July. Following this they will cross to the continent, where their itinerary includes visits to Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, and Austria. A trip is planned up the historic Rhine Valley, after which they will proceed to Vienna.

Leaving Austria, the party will continue their journey by going to Italy, where a stop will probably be made at Rome. September and October will be spent among the southern countries. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will return in the latter part of October. This is the headmaster's second trip to Europe, and the first for Mrs. Kelly.

During Mr. Kelly's absence, the school will be in charge of Mr. Cook. School will open on schedule with the instructors in attendance.

BASEBALL AND TRACK CLOSE SUCCESSFUL SEASON WITH WINS

Pingry and Princeton Prep Defeated
By Prep Nine; Track
Victorious

With a well earned 2-0 victory over Pingry last week, the Rutgers Prep baseball team closed a season of five triumphs and three defeats, a better record than Coach Charles Brown expected from the looks of the material in April. The Prep track team, under Coach Donald J. McGinn, the first in several years, closed its schedule with a thrilling 63-54 win over Princeton Prep last week to climax its activity since this fall.

Victories in baseball were registered this season over New Brunswick High, in a practise game, 7-3; Stevens Prep, 7-3; Princeton Prep, 12-2; Montclair Academy, 9-2; Pingry Prep, 2-0. Defeats came from Morristown School, 6-21; Wardlaw, 0-6; Oratory, 8-9. Games with Kingsley and South River were cancelled because of inclement weather.

Princeton Prep Bows

Rutgers Prep nine trampled over the Tiger team from Princeton Prep, May 23, to the tune of 12-3. Jamison, pitcher from Nassau town, was taken for seven hits and Hoff, who relieved him, fared no better since the Princeton infield played poor ball. Cain, pitching for the locals, was touched for six hits and passed two men but good support kept the score down. Rodgers' home run in the seventh proved to be the only thrill in a game that from the start threatened to be boring.

Pingry Downed

On May 26, the locals journeyed to Pingry Prep in Elizabeth, where they scored the final victory of the season over the Queen city team by the score of 2 to 0. The game was closely contested until the fifth inning, when Hermerda's triple and Capano's "fielder's choice" sent the boys from Rutgers scampering over the bags. The Pingry players managed to take Cain for four hits, and the locals retaliated with three hits off Philpot. The team gave its best ball playing exhibition of the season.

Track Team Wins

With Linders and Clover the outstanding stars, Rutgers Prep track team conquered Princeton Prep by the close score of 63 to 54, at Neilson Field May 25. Their meet

THE 165TH

Today Rutgers Prep celebrates its 165th anniversary. Since 1766, the institution has been preparing boys for college work, and as far as is known, the work of the school has never been interrupted for a single year.

This is in itself, quite a heritage. Greater still is the inspiration that can be gathered from the lives of the Prep graduates during the years. Many hold important positions in business, law, medicine, and other professions. The graduates of recent years are attending colleges of high standing in many parts of the country, and their college work has always been a credit to the school.

This record can be upheld only by the students of this and future graduating classes. No matter what records were made by graduates of fifteen or twenty years ago, if the present graduates do not do well in college; if succeeding graduating classes do not do well, the school's good reputation will suffer.

The immediate task of defending the school's reputation in college rests with the seniors. No more need be said to them. To those who will return next year, the best advice that can be given is to get to work from the very first of the year. College success is possible only to those properly prepared, and proper preparation comes only through hard work.

SENIOR CLASS GIFT

The gift of the class of '31 to the school is the trophy case now to be seen in the front hall. In the case are the trophies won by Prep teams, together with a number of curios of former days. On the top of the case is a bronze copy of the Discobolus, which was donated by Henry Such Smith, of the class of 1930.

The History of Rutgers Prep

Dr. Myron Scudder, President of Scudder School, Was Last Headmaster at Rutgers Prep—Mr. Kelly Has Held Office for Longest Term in History of School

Edited by Headmaster William P. Kelly

The school has been at times a center for the education of students from foreign countries. In the 40's a large number of Spaniards came in, ranging in ages from 16 almost to 60 for the purpose of learning the English language, and during the 70's and 80's, it was a mecca for the Japanese, who were at that time selected with great care by the ministers of education in Japan so that they might give the greatest service to their country on their return. Some of these men are still living in high position. A few died while in this country, as a little group of monuments in Willow Grove Cemetery testifies.

In 1891 Professor Eliot R. Payson began what proved to be a very long and useful term of office as headmaster. He not only had the help of Mrs. Payson, who was remarkably well adapted to this work, but also had great ability in the selection of his teachers, many of whom have made their mark in the educational world. The students of his day were a very fine group of boys as their present careers amply prove. Dr. Payson now lives in retirement on College avenue.

In 1908 Myron T. Scudder, a graduate of the school and the college, became headmaster and put in three very energetic years. He is now head of the Scudder School in New York City.

ELEMENTARY

LEONIDAS.

An Original Story by Paul Cook

Leonidas soon fell, and his men made a circle about him, and tried to fight the Persians off. But they were outnumbered, and soon not a Greek was left alive.

CHAPTER III

The Monument is Raised

After a short time a Greek from across the sea came to Sparta. He said, "Do you want to know where Leonidas died?"

The Spartans said "Yes, for we will erect monuments."

So they went with the Greek from across the sea.

The Greek said, "Are you going to build them of gold like a god's statue?"

The Spartans replied, "No, we do not care for gold in Sparta. We will build them of gleaming white marble."

Soon they got to the place. One monument was raised for the Greeks who had fought together, and one for Leonidas alone, a big lion for the lion of Sparta.

And so lives the memory of a brave king and a brave little band of soldiers.

ATHLETIC PROGRAM BIGGER NEXT YEAR SAYS COACH BROWN

Schedules In All Sports Heavier; Several New Schools To Be Included

Athletic schedules for next year include the addition of new schools of a high type and in most sports, more contests, according to Charles H. Brown, director of athletics at Prep, in an interview on next year's plans.

"Besides the regular schedules for the varsity teams, there have been arranged three football games for the proposed midget football team, a schedule for the second team in football and a schedule for the second team in basketball. A series of baseball games for the smaller boys of the freshman class is also planned," declared Coach Brown.

"Track plans include a cross-country meet with Montclair Academy at the time of the football game there, and two other meets in cross-country in addition to the state meet," he said. "The winter indoor track team will also have a regular schedule and spring matches with Princeton and Pingry have been arranged. The team will also enter the interscholastic and state meets next spring.

"Tennis and golf schedules," continued Mr. Brown, "have only been partly completed. I am safe in saying, however, that there will be a longer schedule in both of these sports than we had this year.

"By arranging such a program as is planned, Rutgers Preparatory School is giving its school body as much high type athletic competition as any other school in the state for its size. To those of the students who are coming back for another year I would like to say, make your plans to enter into some form of interscholastic athletics, go out for some team or all of them, and although you may not make the first team, your presence on the field or floor will be of great assistance in molding into form teams that will bring to Rutgers Prep a year of success in athletics."

MR. McCLOSKEY ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Robinson, of Weedsport, N. Y., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Shirley S. Robinson, to Mr. Edmund M. McClosky, son of Mrs. May Blair McClosky, of Plymouth, Mass. Miss Robinson is a sophomore at the New Jersey College for Women.

Mr. McClosky is a member of the faculty of Rutgers Preparatory School, Department of Romance Languages. He graduated from Bowdoin College in 1926, and before coming to Rutgers Prep last year, he taught at Worcester Academy, DeWitt Clinton Hebbard School, and St. Mark's School. Mr. McClosky has been the director of the Glee Club during his two years here.

Prep Commencement In The Gay 'Nineties Was A Gay Event Past Argo Reveals

"Beastly howlings of the soft-minded freshmen" and a good time at Schlesinger's featured Rutgers Prep graduations in the gay 'nineties, according to a report in the June Argo of 1892. Selected portions of the story on the commencement exercises of that year are as follows:

Thursday evening, June 16, Kirkpatrick Chapel was the scene of the fortunate graduate (sic). The class of '92 bade farewell to the old Preparatory School. The audience boasted of many sweet girls, alternately pleased and disgusted by the well-rendered speeches of their ideal, and by the "beastly" howlings of the soft-minded freshmen. After the overture by Wilmont's orchestra, Mathias Everett Turner, second honor man, welcomed many friends by an appropriate salutation, followed by his oration, "Good Roads."

The next oration, "The Newspaper as a Teacher of Morals," was delivered by Lane Cooper. After him Thomas Letson delivered an oration, "The Goal of Science." He said that men do not understand science. They believe it is to rob them of a living, but it is only to cultivate the finer nature of mankind, and give him greater opportunity for progress and civilization.

The orchestra indulged to some extent in "Wang." This may be said to be always welcomed, either as a beverage or as an art.

After several other orations the orchestra rendered a selection, "Clear the Tracks," which was quite appropriate, being followed by the valedictory which signifies a farewell. And indeed the class of '92 has cleared the track.

Prof. Payson made a very pleasing address to the class. He reminded them of their future aims, and that true honor was won only by constant striving with adverse fates. He charged them, whatever they did, to enter into it with whole soul, and the desired end would be accomplished.

The class adjourned to Schlesinger's, where they were entertained by a bountiful spread. Toasts were made, and after serenading Dr. Scott, all returned to their homes, as big as life and three times as verdant.

1931 DIAL APPEARS

Ye Dial of 1931 was delivered yesterday by the Reade-Taylor Company of Baltimore and will be distributed today.

The cover is of maroon leather with gold trimmings. In the upper part is a gold "R", below it the school crest and in the lower section is "Ye Dial, 1931." The pattern was modeled after a Rutgers University Scarlet Letter of several years ago.

Advertising is considerably more than last year and the book was printed at a saving over that of 1930. Pictures, this year, were taken by the White Studios.

Roger Gay is editor-in-chief of this year's Dial and Romney Wheler is assistant editor. The editorial staff consists of J. Beardslee, Bosco, Davis, Gindin, Kraft, Pinckney, Strong, Whalen, W. Beardslee and Klauer.

John H. McGrann is business manager and is assisted by McCormick and Cain.

Tennis Team Breaks Even

Scores Win Over Somerville But Drops Match To Pingry

Prep racket wielders defeated the Somerville High School team by a score of 3-2 May 18. Carl Schuh, Prep No. 1 man, was vanquished by the Somerville captain, by the scores of 6-2, 6-4. Jones and Kraft came through in their single matches to give the Prepsters a 2 to 1 lead. In the doubles Jones and Schuh paired up and defeated the Somerville duo by the scores, 6-4, 6-3.

The team was beaten by Pingry Prep, 3-2 last week. Carl Schuh was again defeated, but played his best match against Mook, state champion in 1930. The scores were: 6-2, 6-1. Jones and Kraft were also downed in their single matches, which assured Pingry of victory. The locals fared better in the doubles, however, winning both matches by convincing scores. The first game of doubles was won by Schuh and Wood, while Jones and Kraft won the final match.

TRACK CAPTAIN ELECTED

Bob Linders was unanimously elected captain of track for next year, and Russell Sherman honorary captain for this year, at the close of the Princeton meet last week.

The two teams met jointly afterwards with the coaches of the two teams present. Mr. Brown presented the silver trophy, which was received by Captain Sherman on behalf of the team. The cup has been purchased jointly by the two schools, and the winner of the annual track meet will keep it for the ensuing year.

marked the culmination of the track season for Prep. Linders captured firsts in the century, the quarter-mile and the javelin, second in the discus throw, and third in the broad jump. Bill Clover took two first places and the same number of second places to capture second honors in scoring. Piawlock, husky three letter man of Princeton Prep, was the star performer of the visitors. His mighty heave of 126 feet 9 inches in the discus broke the state record of 123 feet 4 1/2 inches, made last year by Berman of Barringer High School.

Rutgers Takes Track Events

Rutgers captured every one of the track events except the high hurdles, won by Anthony of Princeton. However, Princeton's victories in the pole-vault, the shot-put, and the high-jump kept the outcome of the meet in doubt until the last event, the javelin, won by Linders.

Those who competed for Rutgers were: Linders, Clover, Davis, Greene, Sherman, O'Donnell, Hermerda, Ready, Mook, Wheeler, Strong, W. Beardslee, and Smith.
