

FOUNDED

THE ARGO

1889

RUTGERS PREPARATORY SCHOOL

NEW BRUNSWICK N.J.

October 15, 1948

Volume 5

Issue No. One

PREPSTERS SET TO WIN OVER HUN

BARN DANCE

This Saturday night our school is having an old fashioned barn dance. The time is from eight until twelve. Usual attire for a barn dance is an old shirt or sweater, and a pair of jeans. No previous experience is necessary to enjoy yourself, as all the steps are outlined by professional square dance callers. If you are present at our gym Saturday night, we can assure you of a very pleasant time.

CONCERT SERIES

One of the School activities that new boys may not know about is the University Concert Series, held in the University Gymnasium. Annually, this first class musical series presents five concerts, chiefly orchestral.

This year's first event will be the appearance of the Philadelphia Orchestra, Eugene Ormandy conducting, on November 8th at 8:30 p.m.

An additional Special Students Concert will be given by the Philadelphia Orchestra on Sunday, November 7th, at 3:00 p.m.

Tickets for all concerts are available at the Music House, 25 Bishop Place, right off College Avenue.

MONTCLAIR DEFEATED

Rutgers Prep failed to make an impressive showing in the first game of the season when they lost to Pennington Prep 19-0 on October 2. The visitors scored in all but the third period. The touchdowns were made by Fearheller, McMullin, and Hendricks. The longest run of the game was turned in by Hendricks when he raced 66 yards for the first Pennington tally.

In the second game of the season the tables were exactly reversed, when Rutgers Prep completely outclassed Montclair Academy in a driving rainstorm. The cheering at the second game was slightly better but far from good. All three touchdowns were scored by John Garboski, and Bill Driscoll made good two of the three conversions. The final score 20-0.

We now have a percentage of 1 & 1. With our forthcoming victory over Hun this Friday we will increase it to 2 & 1.

The football team is out working hard, the least the non-football players can do is get out and support the team. So come this Friday to Johnson Park - let's see 100 per cent attendance. We beat Hun last year 20-0, there's no reason why we won't do it again.

BEAT

HUN!

THE ARGO

Editors and Reporters

Bill Gramer

Mason Martens

Walt Quinn

Bernard Rineberg

Jay Wulfson

Faculty Advisor

D. M. Heinlein

THE TRAPS

"The Traps", as the boarding school is commonly known by almost everyone in Prep, is a very intriguing place, both for the varied oddities you may find there and for its superb location overlooking the Raritan mud flats and Johnson Park (adopted training field for Johnny Miske, well known Delta House plane enthusiast).

At the Traps there are four distinct and different houses, which boast of many well known (or should I say "notorious") personalities. In the Delta House, largest of them all, we have the great radio and phonograph genius, D.C. (not A. C.) Wurtzel, and his radio supply shop completely equipped with Chet Turdo, and a fire escape, in case of an explosion. Before we leave the Delta House we should by all means make a trip to the basement and view the "coke" machine with its beautiful "sold out" sign. The rulers of this house are Mr. A. Z. Holley and Mr. J. B. Grove, ping pong and piano novices, respectively.

The next stop on our wanderings takes us to the Gamma House, the all athletic house... Here we have Perth Amboy's gift to Prep... Phil Karkus, fencer, golfer, and grid-iron triple threat. Also Walt

Page 2

Quinn, the boy with all the low golf score cards.... We also have Mr. Downie, Mr. Oneal, Mrs. Andrews, and one-half of the Bordini-Shinn ping pong champs.

The Beta House is quiet this year with the smallest group of any of the houses. We might pass the comment that Mr. Martin has gotten larger coffee cups.

We come at last to the Alpha House, last year's Campus Dread. Even Mr. Heinlein couldn't take it. Only three of last year's group are left - Jim Efinger, mourning his love life lost to Jack Powers, Ray Henderson, and last year's Aerial Tennis Champ, Ed Lunn.

All in all, the Traps boast a swell group, and it will be worth while for the day students to venture up to George and Huntington Streets... tours leave on the hour.

TELL YOUR FRIENDS

RUTGERS PREP

VS

SAINT PETERS

OCTOBER 23

NIGHT GAME

CITY STADIUM

COME TO THE
BARN DANCE

ARGO SPORTS PAGE

OUR FOOTBALL COACHES

Mr. John B. Housman is a graduate of Nyack High School and Ithaca College. While at school Mr. Housman played football, baseball, basketball, and track. He also was captain of the swimming team. Besides this, he also had time to be president of the Senior Class and Student Council. Coach Housman graduated from Ithaca College in 1942 with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Physical Education.

Coach Housman spent 1944 to 1946 in the United States Army, first as an infantry lieutenant and then as recreation officer for 200,000 troops in Japan and Korea.

Upon his discharge from the Army, Coach Housman entered Columbia Teachers College. After receiving his Masters Degree, Mr. Housman accepted a position as coach and instructor at Rutgers Prep.

Mr. Housman's favorite baseball teams are the New York Giants and the Cleveland Indians. Football is his favorite sport.

Mr. A. Z. Holley, history teacher and assistant football coach, attended the University of Maryland at Baltimore. While at school, he played almost every sport. Being an ardent American League fan, he is for every team, (but the Yankees) At this date he no doubt has the honor of having seen the most Army-Navy Football Classics. Mr. Holley's favorite sport is golf, and rightly so, for he consistently hits in the low 80's. With all these other interests he is also proprietor of the Holley A. C.

At one time Mr. Holley was secretary to the Governor of Maryland, and very active in State politics. He has taught in many schools including Storm King School, Cornwall, New York, and the Tome School, Port Deposit, Maryland. He also has done social work in New York City. He also served in both the Army and Navy.

When a student has a problem pertaining to his class work or personal life, Mr. Holley is always there with a helping hand.

The Argo needs:

more contributions

larger staff

help us out!