

Lev! Oh-It's-Lev with Bromfman, Levy, Miller, Lipman

The student body of Rutgers Prep selected student council officers for 1957-1958 on May 16th. Martin Levowitz, running unopposed, was elected president. Bob Bromfman won over Arlene Greenberg for the vice-presidency. Linda Levy and Bruce Miller got the jobs of secretary and treasurer. The delegate from the freshman class will be John Lipman.

Unopposed But Not Unanimous

Before the campaigns began officially the faculty posted a list of students who were eligible for office. The only requirement was an honor average. Mr. Holley announced that there would be no parties, but that each candidate would have to run separately. Levowitz announced his candidacy for president and no one opposed him. But he did not win it unanimously. Although the tally was not made public, it is the general consensus that Martin received a bare majority. There were some write in votes for Jackie Kaufelt and Jim Burke. Some students who said they protested the lack of competition wrote in the name of fictitious persons. Bernard Karshmer, though made ineligible by the faculty, received a substantial number of write in votes.

But there was open competition for the other offices. Both Bromfman and Miss Greenberg spoke to the students. Arlene spoke of student council cooperation. Bromfman said that he'd "be around" for anybody to speak to him about student council affairs.

Jay Goldsmith's campaign for secretary was "less talk and more action." Linda Levy admitted that she was quite a talker but thought she could act all right anyway. She certainly had the backing of some well-known actors, with pictures of Hollywood celebrities to adorn the campaign posters. Both candidates spoke of publishing student council minutes. Miss Levy suggested that this be done in the "Argo". Bruce Gunkle was also a candidate though he did not campaign actively.

The battle for treasurer was the closest contest. Jim Smith ran just behind Miller. Betsy Kady campaigned for the office on the grounds that the girls need some student council representations. Miller was the only candidate in the elections who had a campaign manager, Joe Messina doing the job for him.

Six Run For Delegate

There were a great many delegates for freshman delegate. Marvin Cheitin, Mark Levine, John Lipman, and Richard Shatzman made speeches in assembly. Sid Wooten and David Weiss were also candidates.

The keynote of the campaign speeches seemed to the "no promises." None of the candidates promised anything, nor did any of them make any concrete proposals.

The results of the elections were announced as a special feature of the Spring dance. Saturday, May 18.

The Argo

Vol. 4, No. 6

RUTGERS PREPARATORY SCHOOL

May, 1957

'57-58 YE DIAL STAFF WORKS ON SUPPLEMENT

Mr. Heinlein has recently announced the editorial staff of the 1958 YE DIAL. The staff will work on the spring supplement this year and will continue in the oncoming year. The headmaster explained that this staff was incomplete and many vacancies are to be filled next year.

Bernard Karshmer who has done superb work for the yearbook as Business Manager during the past few years has been appointed Editor. As a reward for her outstanding contributions this year as Copy Editor, a special Co-Editor post has been created for Florence Schmitt. The other two key jobs have been secured by Barbara Lipman, Copy Editor, and Danylo Struk, Lay-Out Editor.

Minor Positions Also Set

Joseph Bushel will be the new Business Manager with Richard Conrad as his assistant. Jacob Thompson and Richard Schatzman will be photographers while the sports department will be headed by Bruce Gunkle. Minor jobs to break in students unacquainted with yearbook productions went to Bardin Levavy, Bruce Miller, and Linda Brodsky, Assistant Sports Editor, Assistant Lay-Out Editor and Assistant Copy Editor respectively.

This, however, is only a tentative and incomplete staff.

Hancox Announces Winners: Levowitz, Miller, Levy, Bromfman.

Richard Conrad's Research On Euglena Takes First At National Science Fair

As most of you know by now, Richard Conrad placed first in the Biological Division of the National Science Fair at Los Angeles, California.

ARGO Gets Third at C.S.P.A.

For the second consecutive year, the ARGO was entered in the Columbia Scholastic Association Competition. The paper received a third place rating as it did last year.

A delegation of six was present at the conference March 15th and 16th and attended various discussion clinics and general meetings about different phases of newspaper work. The purpose of these is to improve papers by means of getting new ideas to improve school publications.

Dick succeeded after six months of diligent work, in winning the Central New Jersey Science Fair. This gave him the opportunity to compete in the national fair where his efforts were finally rewarded.

The title of Dick's exhibit was "Euglena-Plant or Animal?" Previously, scientists have only attempted to classify the Euglena by its physical characteristics. Dick's method, systemic serology, is one used to find the evolutionary relationship between higher plants and animals chemically. This method has never been used for one celled organisms, however. Dick found his results accurate but not enough so to answer his question.

ARGO STAFF

RUTGERS PREPARATORY SCHOOL
Somerset Street

New Brunswick, New Jersey

Editor-in-Chief: Louise DiLalo; Class Editors: Jonathan Margolis, Steven Holsten, Ronald Smyth, Peter Wintersteiner; Copy Editor: Linda Levy; Typing Editor: Arlene Greenberg; Business Manager: Joseph Bushel; Staff: Linda Brodsky, James Burke, Richard Conrad, Arlene DiLalo, Suzanne Duschock, Suzanne Hancox, Elizabeth Kady, Bernard Karshmer, Jacqueline Kaufelt, Richard Kluff, Marc Leavitt, Bardin Levavy, Martin Levowitz, Barbara Lipman, George McCain, Amy Riddering, Richard Schatzman, Florence Schmitt, John Schmitt, Danylo Struk, Nancy Tomkinson; Adviser: Margaret Wilson.

Inquiring Reporter

by Amy Riddering

Question—What would you like to see printed in the Inquiring Reporter column?

Joanne Milliken—"I would like to see some of my favorite limericks."

There was an old man of Peru,
Who dreamt he was eating a shoe.
He woke in the night with a terrible fright

And found it was perfectly true.

Mary Louise Heldrich — "Anything that would be of any value."

Ronnie Jackowitz—"Jokes. One person says, 'Mom can I wear my yellow dress today'—'No, John, you can't.'"

Barbara Lipman—"Doodles"

Betsy Kady—"Riddles."

Doug Krogh—"Jokes."—(Censored)

Suzanne Duschock—"Hideous poems."

Bobby Cox—"Humorous poems."

There once was a fellow of Lye,
Who couldn't tie his tie.
He ran for his life,
When in came his wife.
Who cut off his neck, with a carving knife.

The junkman got his tie, his friend—his wife. —Cox

Danylo Struk—"Jokes and Riddles."

Merle Schiffmayer—"What Mr. Moffat does on weekends."

Lynda Brodsky—"Why Merle wants to know what Mr. Moffat does on weekends."

Dave Stephen—"I want to know why Lynda wants to know why Merle wants to know what Mr. Moffat does on weekends."

Bonnie Sue Golden—"Why Dave wants to know why Lynda wants to know why Merle wants to know what Mr. Moffat does on weekends."

Bruce Gunkle—"Why Bonnie wants to know why Dave wants to know why Lynda wants to know why Merle wants to know what Mr. Moffat does on weekends."

Jim Racz—"Anything that would be a benefit to the students."

Judi Anekstein—"I would like to see all the answers to the final exam."

Bunny Karshmer—"Hummmph! Don't bother me I'm doing my Chemistry."

Linda Levy—"I'd like to see a gossip column."

Steve Holsten—"Pinup pictures."

Arlene DiLalo—"Social activities of the faculty."

Jay Goldsmith—"More inquiries about sports."

Walter Jacobs — "My formula for laughing gas (HO)."

Billy Long—"What Miss Warr does in her free time."

Donna Voorhees—"A big write up on Elvis Presley."

Kathy McCabe—"More funny articles about teachers."

Johnny Schmitt—"I would like to see more Preptoons."

George McCain — "Complete instructions for putting a sailboat on top of an English Ford."

From The Editor's Desk

As is our custom, this sixth and final ARGO of the 1956-7 year was published by the '57-'58 staff. This six-page edition puts an extra task upon the shoulders of a new and relatively inexperienced staff, but the work is worth while if the student body is pleased by the coverage given the numerous year-end activities and events. It was difficult enough to match let alone exceed the high standards set up for us during the past year.

If you notice any changes in your paper, we hope they are pleasing to you and we welcome your comments. With this in mind, a suggestion box will be placed on the front desk in the study hall to remain there all during next year so that you may drop in your suggestions and comments at any time. All worth while and constructive ideas for the improvement of the ARGO will be carefully considered. You need not sign your suggestions, but they may be published at any time.

Mr. Daviet has kindly consented to supply a suggestion box of his own making, and we hope his labors will prove fruitful.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

In this past year the Student Council has done much for the betterment of the school, and for the enjoyment of the students. Unfortunately, our budget was limited, and as a result, activities which we had originally planned were somewhat curtailed. However, the hearty thanks of the Student Council and, I am sure, the Ye Dial goes to James Ness for his plays which reimbursed the Student Activities Fund. It is, of course, a wise safeguard to leave a balance, and as a result we had to wait for a revision of the budget before we could plan anything for the Spring. We had a balance available which allowed a dance, the annual Junior-Senior trip, and the School Field Day for the closing month of School.

Over the past year the Student Council has sponsored many activities. The School year began socially with a barbecue, followed by a hayride, and then a dance. The Council also partially subsidized the Conservation Club Trip and the Glee Club Concert. After Christmas we undertook to better the Council's standing with the students, and inaugurated a system for observing lunch period study hall. The previously mentioned field day, dance, and Junior-Senior trip were the activities held after Christmas.

The Student Council also revised the constitution, which was a huge, time consuming job. The school trip was turned down by the faculty.

The lack of social functions between February and April, except for Jim Ness' plays, was due to the Student Council's long wait for the revised budget. I certainly hope everyone has enjoyed and will enjoy the activities planned for the last month of school.

I want to thank the students at Rutgers Prep for giving me the opportunity of being President of the Student Council. It has been a wonderful experience, and I would like at this time to wish my successor the best of luck.

Thank you sincerely,

Charles Stephen Hancox
Pres. of the Student Council
Rutgers Preparatory School

FLASH:
Congratulations
To KEVIN.
He Is A Brother!

STUDENTS PLAY ON FIELD DAY

by Suzanne Duschock

Will the seniors be able to even the score after the faculty triumph of 1956? The faculty-senior softball game with A. Z. Holley again the key man on the faculty team will be one of the final highlights of our field day which will be held at Johnson's Park on May 24 from 9:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M.

Faculty Poses Threat

The faculty line up is as follows! O'Connell as catcher, Moffat at first, Dumarac at second, Heinlein at third, Murasko playing short stop, Daviet at left, Sperduto at center, and Blake at right. The faculty team almost literally slaughtered the varsity last year and the addition of Sperduto and Murasko this year hardly lessens the threat.

There will be two captains chosen from each of the five classes. They will divide the school into ten sections, five maroon and five white. There will be an event for each class going on simultaneously. The events include softball, tennis, relay races, track and other field events. The afternoon will end with the entire student body participating in an egg throwing contest.

Lunch Barbecue Style

Morning lunch will be served barbecue style in the park picnic area. The students will help with the preparation and cooking of all the food. After a full morning of sports, lunch should prove to be not only satisfying but relaxing.

After last year's successful field day this year's should be better than ever. For those students who participate in the events, field day will bring overall enjoyment.

Spring Play Wins Compliments As An Excellent Achievement

A three act play, "Life With Father," was presented at the Rutgers Prep Gymnasium Friday evening, May 10.

Mr. Dumarac directed the play and Mr. Moffat was in charge of production.

The cast of characters included:

Stars, Stover and Ries, Mr. and Mrs. Day

Father, Carl Stover; Mother, Sharon Ries; Clarence, Danylo Struk; John, Daniel Thompson; Whitney, Austin Andersen; Harlan, Ronald Symth; Cora, Linda Levy; Mary Skinner, Arlene Greenberg; Rev. Dr. Lloyd, Bardin Levavy; Dr. Humphries, Robert Bronfman; Dr. Somers, Robert Cox; Margaret, Annamaria Riddering, Annie, Joanne Milliken; Delia, Suzanne Hancox; Nora, Nancy Tomkinson; and Maggie, Suzanne Duschock.

Behind the Scenes

The stage crew consisted of Boice McCain, Martin Levowitz and Jonathan Margolis. Zena Bernstein made the posters. Prompters were Merle Schiffmayer and Nancy Haworth. Jacqueline Kaufelt and Henry Gurshman were in charge of properties.

"Life With Father," written by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, is a comedy which takes place in the spring of the late 1880's.

The plot evolves around two stories. One concerns a hot-headed father who refuses to be baptized. But when mother is sick and almost dying (she has accidentally been poisoned by her son) father promises to be baptized if only she will get well. So as the curtain comes down at the end of the play father is on his way to church.

The infatuation of Clarence, the older boy, and Mary Skinner makes up the second story. The play proves quite enjoyable as we witness a very feminine mother and extremely masculine father, a shy Clarence and a vivacious Mary combining their characters.

Hard Work Pays Off

Having rehearsed diligently for weeks the cast was ready on that warm Friday night to give an excellent performance. And indeed they did! They performed to a full house of students, teachers and family groups and their job was enjoyed by all.

The cast and stage crew chipped in and bought both Mr. Dumarac and Mr. Moffat records to show their appreciation for the fine work they did in organizing the play.

MR. DAVIET EVALUATES

Mr. Daviet was part of a committee of eight composed of teachers from private and secondary schools, and college instructors, who evaluated Saint Bernard School, a boys boarding school at Gladstone, New Jersey. The evaluation was similar to the evaluation our school underwent last year. Mr. Daviet found the evaluating interesting. Saint Bernard's School spirit and conduct impressed him, and also the fact that the students were responsible for all maintenance.

Rutgers Prep Inaugurates Six Week Summer Session

For the first time in its history, Rutgers Prep will conduct a summer school. It will run from June 25 to August 2 and the classes will be two hours long. The summer school will be for students who wish to improve their grades in a subject. The limit for a student who wishes to attend is two review subjects in which he or she may wish to improve the grades. The classes probably will run from 8:30 to 12:30 and therefore each student will spend approximately two to four hours a day in classes.

Dancers Enjoy 'Paris In The Spring'

by Merle Schiffmayer

Rutgers Prep held one of the most successful dances in its history last Saturday night, May 18, in the gym from 8:30 to 11:30 P.M. The student dance committee under Steve Hancox had worked hard to prepare for this event and they were rewarded by an enthusiastic turn-out which they had not anticipated.

Jennifer Upton and Nancy Haworth, as co-chairmen of the decoration committee worked diligently with Fred Shatzman, Boice McCain, Bobby Cox, and Bunny Karshmer to transform the gym into a Parisian cafe. French travel posters, pink apple blossoms, a miniature Eiffel tower, which was enchanted by revolving spot-lights, and cafe tables scattered over the floor helped to make the theme. "Paris in the Springtime" come alive.

The refreshment committee, headed by Merle Schiffmayer, served cookies and pink lemonade.

At ten o'clock the student council election results were announced. Martin Levowitz was elected as the new student council president, Bobby Bronfman is the new vice-president, Linda Levy is the new secretary and Bruce Miller was chosen treasurer. John Lipman was elected to the newly formed post of freshman delegate. After short speeches by the members of the new student council, the dancing resumed.

Music for the evening was furnished by George Ruben's Stardusters. In order that it might be highlighted, the band was situated on a stage which had been used for the annual school play.

Mr. and Mrs. Heinlein, Mr. Dumarac, and Mr. and Mrs. Rooda acted as chaperones for the occasion.

Students Anticipate Commencement Time

For the 192nd consecutive year, the Rutgers Preparatory School anxiously awaits its Commencement Day and the summer vacation. Unfortunately, Mr. Heinlein does not yet have either the name of the speaker or the subject which is to be spoken upon at this event, which will take place on June 6.

The usual graduation proceedings of previous years are as follows. First the student body marches in double rank over to the Kirkpatrick Chapel on the main campus of Rutgers. Here the procession marches in and takes seats. The service consists of the singing of hymns, which are mostly of a religious nature, and the presenting of many awards which are given out every year to the most brilliant and most promising students in every capacity. Of course, no graduation would be complete without the presentation of diplomas to the seniors. This is the highlight of the proceedings.

The final honor roll is read and honor pins are given out. All are in good spirits for they realize that after this they will have no more school until the following September.

At the finale the student body will march out, excused until September 16 when classes resume for all except the graduates who are off to college.

Two Boys Win Top Prizes In Local Driving Contest

Two seniors from Prep have placed first and second in the annual Jay-Cee Teenage Road-e-o, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. At the Johnson and Johnson Research Center on May 4, a Saturday, John Maffet won the elimination tournament for this part of the state with Boice McCain finishing second.

On Saturday, May 25, John will go to Red Bank to compete in the statewide eliminations.

All those entering the Road-e-o had taken written tests during the week before the meet at the Research Center. Five drivers from Prep competed on the fourth.

The Road-e-o is open to anyone under twenty years of age who has a driver's license and who has had a record of no traffic violations during six months prior to the contest.

It is interesting to note that despite the fact that Prep was the only participating school which offers no course in driving, two of our boys came out right on top.

Seniors Guests Of Junior Class At Gay Dinner-Theater Party

Levowitz, Messina, Margolis, Junior-Senior Trip Planning Committee

Temporary Faculty: Senior Pedagogues

Rutgers Prep's seniors took control of the school for a day on the annual Student Administration Day, Friday, May 3rd. Stephen Hancox acted as headmaster, and all the seniors actively participated filling the places of the faculty.

The student faculty had complete control of the school while the teachers took the roles of students for the day. This left the seniors with the responsibility of completing the required work and keeping their classes in order. Without a pointed exception the seniors' responsibilities were accomplished, and at the same time the day was enjoyable for the rest of the school.

This type of practice teaching is a good idea because it is an excellent opportunity for the seniors to develop greater capacities in self-discipline, responsibility, and leadership.

Alumnus Receives Diploma Long After Commencement

Doctor Pauline Long received a rather belated degree from Rutgers Prep on April 23. Dr. Long completed her courses here in 1898.

Mr. Heinlein presented the diploma to the retired physician at a "This is Your Life" program given by the Y.W.C.A. at its dinner honoring Dr. Long's thirty-four years of service to the Y.

When Pauline Long graduated from Rutgers Prep, she was the only girl in a boy's school. The diploma which she received consistently referred to her as "him." The new diploma rectifies this error.

Dr. Long, the daughter of a physician, decided to enter medicine in 1915, 13 years after she graduated from Smith college. She set up practice in 1921, and retired last August.

The Juniors and Seniors went on their second annual class trip to New York on May 3rd. This time they saw "No Time for Sergeants" and dined at Leone's Restaurant.

The trip was arranged by Martin Levowitz, Joe Messina, and Jon Margolis. Each student paid $5.50, and the student council financed the bus and theater tickets.

The bus ride to New York was not unusual. There was some singing, accompanied by Al Thode's guitar, and the students sat around in groups and talked.

Everything BUT Soup and Nuts

The first stop was Leone's where the group, consisting of forty-one upperclassmen and four chaperones, Margaret Wilson, August Daviet, George Moffat and Thomas Dumarac, had a large table in the center of one of the new wine cellar dining rooms. The table was covered with appetizers which included huge chunks of cheese and large loaves of Italian bread. The dinner consisted of the famous "Antipasto Supreme," a lasagna course, a main course, and dessert.

Near the end of the meal, an accordionist played some tunes, and everyone was treated to hearing Al Thode's rendition of an old Italian song. The students vainly tried to persuade Mr. Moffat to dance, but he was too busy digesting his meal.

Next the overstuffed preppers waddled several blocks to the R.C.A. Building, where they took an interesting tour of the N.B.C. studios. Some of the things seen and explained were the basic principles of color T.V., a large studio, its lights and cameras, a demonstration of sound effects techniques, and a radio show being recorded. The guide received some help from Mr. Dumarac, whose witty comments made the tour most enjoyable.

Next Stop: The Theater

The highlight of the trip was the show. The students strolled to the theater a short distance away. Once inside, they created a small traffic jam, because of a little confusion about the location of their seats. However, this was quickly straightened out, and they settled back to enjoy the play.

Freedom at Last

After the play, the students were allowed a half hour of freedom. Most grabbed a snack, although some preferred a whirl in a penny arcade. Bunny Karshmer amused himself by pulling a weird hat down over his ears and leering with an idiotic expression at passers-by. Later he explained that it was merely an experiment to test peoples' reactions.

SPORTLIGHT

by Bernard Karshmer

It seems inevitable that Prep's Varsity baseball team will end the season on the same sour note that last year's squad did (1-14). As it was impossible for me to pin-point last-year's troubles, it would be even harder this year. As of this moment, the record stands at 1-8. About the only bright spot is Joe Messina's hitting, which is .400 plus. As far as pitching goes, Prep's biggest hope, Bob Fazekas, has failed to make a really good showing. Don't get me wrong; I'm not saying that Bob isn't a good pitcher, but rather that he has had little support from his teammates. Prep never fails to make at least one miscue a game, which is like giving away runs.

The catching department has switched hands quite a few times with Norm Fowler doing most of the work. John Maffet, the other catcher, has been switched all around the infield, and at present is in the short stop slot. Two rays of sunshine are sophomores Bruce Gunkle and Mel Hamelsky, who look like they will be first rate ball-players in a year or two.

As far as the overall sports scene is concerned, Prep has a record of 13-38-1. Not too good.

Two weeks ago Ron Jackowitz was presented a plaque for being on the Home News All-County Basketball Team.

Prep Nine Suffers 4-1 Loss

Prep dropped its game with the Sayreville nine one to four May 16. Behind the pitching of Johnny Dziergoski, the Sayreville team was able to hold Prep to only one run. Although he was in trouble several times, Dziergoski managed to pitch his way out.

Bruce Gunkle also pitched a fine game, but because of several errors, he gave up three runs in the first inning. After the first inning he blanked the Sayreville batters until the sixth inning when he gave up one tally.

The game was primarily a pitcher's duel while in a previous encounter which Prep lost eleven to ten there were many errors and hits.

The baseball team has won only one game so far but hopes to take a few more by the end of the season.

After The Game; Tired But Willing.

Tribute To A Wonderful Ballplayer Sure Prospect - '77 Hall Of Fame?

Interview With Messina
by Jim Burke

For many years now the Rutgers Prep baseball team has been in dire need of a "key" player to spark the club to victory. In past seasons the Prep team hasn't been too successful, but Coach O'Connell's hopes are revived this year. The player is, of course, Joseph Cortese Messina. Joe doesn't actually have to play very hard because he is truly a natural athlete. His key hits, like those of Williams, Dimaggio, and Gehrig, have always had a notable effect on team play. His fiery play in centerfield and third has surely raised the spirit of the team. His records are incredible, his speed unmatched, his skill unequaled—and his flaming desire to win is blood-curdling. Baseball has seen no other player like the comet from Lawrence Brook.

Achievements Galore

Some readers who aren't acquainted with the "Lawrence Brook Belter" should be informed that Joe's qualities extend far beyond his excellent baseball ability. First of all, besides being a three letter man, Joe has been briskly participating in Prep's various activities. He is vice-president of the Student Council and Editor-in-Chief of the school yearbook; it would be too tedious and boring to list his other numerous accomplishments. To add to these laurels, Joe has maintained an A average during his four years at Prep.

This star-studded record which Joe has accumulated is a mere fraction compared with his greatest virtue—personality. Many fans have remarked of Joe's "regular guy" attitude even though he's a celebrity. He, unlike other stars, is not affected by his sudden claim to fame and mingles with everyone. Joe's greatest asset is not becoming conceited in spite of his heroic exploits.

Loves Spaghetti

Joe is of Italian descent and loves spaghetti. (Wonder why!!) His future awaits him with nothing but success. He is still skeptical of what profession to choose, but whatever one he selects, one thing is certain; he'll do the best he can, and that is par excellence.

SHELLEY'S
College Book Store
108 SOMERSET STREET
New Brunswick, N. J.
OUR 10th YEAR AT RUTGERS

"Meet To Eat" at the MAYFLOWER
RESTAURANT
Corner SOMERSET and EASTON
New Brunswick, N. J.

INZANO'S
Corner of
EASTON Ave. & SOMERSET St.
New Brunswick, N. J.

JOHNNIE'S COFFEE SHOP
LUNCHEONETTE
20c HAMBURGERS
Fast Service For Prep Boys
38 Easton Ave., New Brunswick

COMPLIMENTS
OF
THE SILVER METEOR

Our Seniors Receive College Acceptances

The college acceptance of our seniors this year is very good. Many of them have been accepted to the top colleges and a few were even accepted by the leading universities. Out of the thirty-one seniors twenty-one have already been accepted by one or even two or three of their choice, while the remaining few have not yet heard from all the colleges to which they applied but are due to be accepted any moment now.

The largest number was accepted by the Rutgers University. This includes: Robert Fazekas, Charles Fowler, Steven Hancox, Edwin Otken, Alan Rackmill, Frederick Schatzman, Eric Schirber, Richard Schwartz, Victor Stilwell, Carl Stover, Kenneth Treat, and Daniel Wallace. The women's division, Douglass College, has accepted Nancy Haworth, Sharon Ries, and Jennifer Upton.

Some of these students were accepted also by another college besides Rutgers. Nancy Haworth was accepted by Colorado University, Dick Schwartz by the University of Rochester, Vic Stilwell by the University of Wisconsin, and Kenny Treat by Utah State Agricultural College.

Other acceptances go as follows: Richard Gutowski by the University of Kentucky, Ronald Jackowitz by Upsala College, Walter Jacobs by the University of Denver, Kenneth McCain by the Colorado School of Mines, John Maffet by Rensselaer Polytech, Martin Bertman by the George Washington University, Andy Piscatelli by Villanova, and Joseph Messina by Brown University, Dartmouth College, Cornell University, and Princeton University.

Eighth Grade Science Class Visits Agricultural College

Mr. Daviet's 8th grade science class visited the Rutgers Agricultural College Wednesday and Thursday, May 1st and 2nd, to see the wild flower gardens. The class had finished their science book and Mr. Daviet suggested the subject of botany. They learned the major parts of the flower and began to study wild flowers. After learning how to identify some of them, Mr. Daviet brought the class to the Agricultural School to see how much they had learned.

Mr. Daviet, who studied botany in college and knows the "in's and out's" of most flowers and plants, was quick to identify the wild flowers that the students did not know at the "Ag" School.

COMPLIMENTS
OF
VARSITY MUSIC SHOP

Chem Group Sees ASARCO Lab Center

The Chem Club, accompanied by Mr. Daviet, visited the Central Research Laboratories of ASARCO, American Smelting and Refining Company at South Plainfield on Friday, April 26. The purpose of the trip was to allow the students to obtain first-hand knowledge of the science of metallurgy.

ASARCO is a principal producer of non-ferrous metals, and the Central Research Laboratories work in conjunction with plants throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and other foreign countries.

The first stop on the tour through the laboratories was the petrographic laboratory where the students examined mineral specimens and a petrographic microscope. The next stop was the mineral dressing lab where valuable minerals in ore are concentrated. From here the club was shown the electrolytic refining of copper and then was conducted to ASARCO's experimental foundry. Here they saw the casting of aluminum ingots. One of the most interesting parts of the tour was the visit to the physical testing lab where samples of metals and alloys are tested for strength, hardness, formability and ductility. The tour ended with a thirty minute color film on the uses of zinc as a preventer of corrosion.

LANGUAGE INSTRUCTOR RETURNS NEXT AUTUMN

Alfred G. Gaggini, Prep language teacher, will return to school next fall, after a year's teaching scholarship in Cambodia, where he has been teaching English to French speaking students. Before returning to the states, Mr. Gaggini is taking an extended tour through various countries in Europe. A long spring vacation gave him the opportunity to see Bali and the Malay Peninsula and to spend a few days in various cities along the Peninsula.

When Mr. Gaggini returns to Prep, he will teach the French and Spanish classes. Mrs. Antoinette Rooda will teach German and French II. We are all looking forward to Mr. Gaggini's arrival next fall.

COMPLIMENTS
OF
STAR MUSIC CENTER

COMPLIMENTS
OF
OFFICE EQUIPMENT
124 Albany Street
SCHOOL SUPPLIES

LOWER SCHOOL NEWS

The spring program of plays has been in progress. All of the lower grades, except the 7th grade, have entertained their parents and friends with dances, songs, and plays recently.

The kindergarten presented an operetta, entitled, The Selfish Giant by Oscar Wilde. Afterwards, they sang the story of Goldilocks and the Three Bears.

The program of the kindergarten through second grade was made up partially of dancing and singing which Mrs. Kolt taught them.

Mrs. Van Vecthen's class, the fourth grade, gave a play about an old fashioned school.

The fifth and sixth grade plays were pantomime. The plays were narrated.

The seventh grade plays are now in the rehearsal stage and will be given next week. One play is entitled The Trial of Billy Scott. The girls are giving a play of their own called "Midnight Burial."

Fifth Grade Plays "Twenty One"

The fifth grade quiz game of "Twenty One" was written up by a Sunday Home News reporter and was carried off quite successfully. Miss Nancy Talmontent, the reporter, took pictures and wrote the story.

Karen Hunt of the fifth grade has returned from a months visit to Europe. She visited London, Paris, and Switzerland.

The school picnic was held at Buccleuch Park on Wednesday, May, 15. A good time was had by all.

The dancing class had its closing party last week at the Prep School Gym.

The sixth grade is working on a second edition of their class paper. Several members of the class have been hit by German measles.

Exams are just around the corner.

RUTGERS CHEVROLET

246 GEORGE STREET
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.

THE JABBERWOCK RECORDS